Grizedale the UK's first forest for sculpture

Explore over two thousand hectares of beautiful woodland set in the heart of the Lake District World Heritage Site.

Since 1977 the Forestry Commission has worked with a number of partner organisations and international artists including the Grizedale Society who initiated the development of sculptures in the forest with us. Other collaborations have included Grizedale Arts, MUF Architecture and Greyworld adding to our internationally renowned collection of site specific sculpture. This is a forest for art, adventure, nature and people, sustainably managed by the Forestry Commission for all to enjoy.
